U.S. G.I. Next Generation Improved Entrenching Tool

This tool went through rigorous testing in combat by the United States Marine Corps. This modern version of the familiar e-tool has benefited from clever design improvements that make it more durable and lighter weight. Designed to be used as a straight shovel, or with the blade locked at 90 degrees as a pick-hoe. The few important key design improvements are: the ergonomically improved handle is now made of lightweight reinforced fiberglass, the shaft is now reinforced anodized extruded aluminum and the blade is made of hardened carbon steel. The tightening nut been moved next to the handle instead of on the blade end keeping operation easier and the tool cleaner. Weighs 2.2 lbs. Unused Condition. Blade made in Finland by Fiskars. Assembled in USA by Gerber Legendary Blades.

Russian Military 2 Piece Winter Suit

This current issue extreme cold weather parka and trouser set is typically reserved for only the higher brass of the Russian Military serving in dangerously cold climates. This is one beefy set of extreme cold weather gear.

The parka has a removable thick poly filled liner, soft fleece lined hand warmer pockets, fleece collar and wrists, reinforced elbows, cargo pockets, arm pockets, and concealable hood built into the collar. The outer shell is made of a strong breathable waterproof nylon material. The bibs feature a soft poly lining, two slash pockets, two cargo pockets, reinforced knees, and cinch ankles. The bottom of the bibs have extra-large zippered leg openings that allow the bibs to be slipped over boots. All of this decked out in a newer issue pixelated woodland camo design. ★★★★★ 5 STAR RATED

"I bought two of these trousers and love them. Top quality workmanship. I wear them with braces / suspenders. They are wool, totally not itchy and naturally shrug off dirt. Will keep you warm when wet. Only wool does that. They are labelled dry clean only. If you wash them, do it cold water and layout to dry. Never hot wash or put in a dryer. I use as work trousers, but it's almost a shame as they are so nice."

★★★★★ 5 STAR RATED

"This parka is so nice. Large, heavy, and built to last. With the vintage Czech Quilted Liner beneath it you have a great system for camping in the winter. I would have liked a bigger zipper, but this one functions okay, just tiny."

Vintage Czech Military Thermal Jacket

Some of the best cold weather surplus clothing comes from old world Eastern Europe. They really know how to make clothing and they do it well, as is evident with this garment. You can see it was skillfully made to be warm and durable. It appears to have been a coat liner but we feel it works even better as a jacket. It has a nice soft feel. The fill is thick and surprisingly heavy which will trap heat in and keep cold out. Features full button front and elastic cuffs. Size: Large or X-Large. These jackets are vintage 1960's Czech Army issue. Used, Good Condition.

French Military Super Soft Pullover

If you never bought military surplus clothing, I recommend you start with this article because I am sure you will be hooked on surplus for life. We are not sure what the manufacturer did when they made this pullover but I have never put my hands on such soft fleece. This quarter zip shirt is very versatile. Wear it as an excellent cold blocking base layer or simply as casual outerwear. Pro surplus tip: Order more than one because chances are someone at home is going to steal it out of your laundry basket! Color: CCE Camo. 100% polyester. Sizes: Large, Extra Large. Unused Condition. Made in France.

U.S. G.I. Extreme Cold Temperature Boots, No Valve

These unissued boots are offered at a great price for those looking for an even better deal on the hard-to-find genuine Military issue "Mickey" boots. These boots are older stock and do not have a valve. They were made primarily for ground troops. The valve was ONLY designed to equalize pressure in the boot if you were wearing these boots at high altitudes or airborne. Contrary to popular belief, this is a better boot because moisture cannot get into the boot through the open valve and compromise the multiple layers of wool felt insulation. Perfect for hunting, snowmobiling, ice fishing and just about any other cold weather activity. Sizes tend to run about one size large. Boots are not returnable. Unused/Unissued Condition.

Polish Military Wool Blanket

Please read this description very carefully, as each blanket is stunningly unique and different! The pictures shown are just a few examples of the different variations of this blanket.

These Cold War Era blankets are both bold and stunningly beautiful. Thick and heavy, the blankets are an ideal blend of 50% wool and 50% polyester. They are easily some of the most interesting and unique blankets we have ever come across. While digging through warehouses in Europe, we were quite lucky to find such a hidden gem and we bought them all! The challenge is that almost every blanket is different! Faced with this dilemma of so many colors and patterns we decided to sell them by color. This means you pick one color and your blanket will contain at least that one color. Choose: Brown, Orange, or Burgundy.

That does not mean it will be the only color of the blanket, that simply means it will be sure to have the color you picked represented. The patterns also vary so more than likely each blanket you order will be different. These blankets all measure approximately 60" x 80". Edges of the blankets may also vary from whip stitching to hemmed. Unused Condition.

U.S. G.I. Next Generation Improved Entrenching Tool

This next gen e-tool won its government contract through rigorous testing in combat by the United States Marine Corps.

This more modern version of the familiar e-tool has benefited from clever design improvements that make it more durable and lighter weight. Designed to be used as a straight shovel, or with the blade locked at 90 degrees as a pick-hoe. The few important key design improvements are: the ergonomically improved handle is now made of lightweight reinforced fiberglass, the shaft is now reinforced anodized extruded aluminum and the blade is made of hardened carbon steel. The familiar tightening nut has move next to the handle instead of on the blade end keeping operation easier and the tool cleaner. Weighs 2.2 lbs. Unused Condition in original manufacturer's box. NATO Approved. Blade made in Finland by Fiskars. Assembled in USA by Gerber Legendary Blades.

Italian Military M4 Bayonet for the M1 Carbine

The M4 Bayonet Knife was first adopted in 1944 for use with the .30 caliber M1 Carbine. Many countries produced their own M4 bayonets to use on the iconic M1 Carbine. The US Military provided M1 Carbines to Italy in the 1950s and 1960s under what was called the Military Assistance Program. M1 Carbine rifles were used in Italy well into the 1990s. The Italian Military had to have a bayonet for the M1 and ended up producing these excellent M4 bayonets. Blade measures 6 1/2". Hand crafted, wooden grip. Bayonets are dated in the late 1950's and have the Arsenale Esercito Torino (Turin Army Arsenal) maker stamp. Most blades appear to be Unused. The unique scabbards appear to have only slight use or storage wear and come with the original web belt hanger. This is a very rare collectible.

U.S. G.I. M9 Bayonet with Scabbard, Ontario

First introduced in 1986, the M9 is the current issue bayonet for the U.S. Army. The M9 is more than just a melee weapon, but a very useful tool for heavy cutting, chopping, filing, and also a very effective wire cutter. Also included with scabbard is the LBE belt attachment clips and quick release buckle. These bayonets are copied quite often so beware of cheap imitations. We are offering nothing but a 100% genuine U.S. issue M9. Unused or Used

Vintage Swiss Military Kerosene Floodlight Projector "Tilley Lamp"

The original "off the grid" floodlight! The Tilley FL6 floodlight design has been lighting up borders, prison camps, and various European military installations for decades upon decades. This is a very rare and special piece of Military Surplus. Think of it as a supersize style lantern. Not one single detail was overlooked when these were meticulously crafted by hand, right down to the the special protective armored glass. When properly configured, this light boasts a whopping 3,000 candle power! No electricity required! Includes rare special spiked stand which allows the projector to be secured into the ground and tilted upwards or downwards and swing completely around. Comes with special hand made solid wood storage/transport box. Made to burn ordinary kerosene. Most appear to be dated in the 1960's. Stands approximately 6' tall. Unused, to only slightly Used Condition. Endless information is available on the internet regarding operation, restoration and history, we do not warrant functionality. Made in the United Kingdom.

Swedish Military Field Phone, Ericsson

Pack

FIENDE LYSSNAR, or in English, The enemy is listening! These field phones made by Ericsson were used in the field to relay orders to the front lines.

Powered by D batteries. These days, children growing up would not even have the slightest idea how to use such a device. How cool would it be to string one of these from your children's clubhouse to your house? Vintage phones make great collectibles but when functional they are great for communication between buildings on a farm or remote areas. We do not warrant the functionality of these phones, however they are a simple device that can be made operational with limited electrical experience or a quick internet search. Used, Good Condition.

In all of our travels we have never seen this field phone, which makes it very rare and unique.

I do not believe they have ever hit the surplus market until now. The compact size and design reminds me of the iconic U.S. G.I. EE-8 phone.

The expertly constructed hard canvas case ensures these phones will survive being beat around the battlefield. Field phones like this are great for emergency preparedness, remote farms, hunting camps, fun at home and more. Now is your chance to own a very cool piece of history!
